Tri-City Mental Health

Tri-City Mental Health Authority

Established in 1960 as the Joint Powers
Authority for the cities of Pomona,
La Verne and Claremont

Strengthening the community's capacity for well-being, recovery and mental health is the foundation of Tri-City programming.

Our comprehensive system of care includes outpatient services for adults, children and families, as well as a non-clinical supportive services.

Building on Our Mission

Becoming a Trauma-Informed Behavioral Center of Excellence

Creating a framework to better support Tri-City staff, clients and the diverse communities we serve

Implementation of Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACEs) and Community Resiliency Model (CRM) trainings

ACEs, CRM and Trauma Resiliency Model (TRM) trainings developed and provided to Tri-City staff

Emphasis on understanding trauma, the life-long impact of exposure to toxic stress during critical early developmental years, resiliency and how to restore balance to the body and the mind

ACEs trainings offered to Tri-City clients, families, community members and local partners

Goal of creating a trauma-informed, thriving community and enhancing public understanding of the impact of trauma and toxic stress on overall health

Supplemental Trainings

Connect with existing community partners and build relationships with new organizations to create the foundation of an ACEs Aware community

Provide informational toolkits, "swag bags" and other collateral giveaways to share ACEs Aware messaging and resources with clients, children, adults and families

Communication

Leverage existing communication channels to share info with parents, caregivers and public to better understand the health risks associated with ACEs and toxic stress

Share practical tools and resources to both providers and the general public to educate, empower and heal the negative impacts of ACEs and toxic stress

Connect both providers and the community with free ACEs Aware supplemental trainings, grantee activities and resources to recognize and respond to current risk for ACEs in children and history of ACEs in adults

Who we are

We're a network of community leaders in health, education, and trauma -informed care, spanning California's North Bay and beyond. We're setting out to educate our neighbors about ACEs, and to make screenings part of doctors' routine exams. Together, we can improve the lives of kids and adults and build a healthy community where everyone can thrive.

Whole Care, Whole Healing

Over 60% of kids in our community deal with adverse experiences. That trauma effects their health and wellbeing — and in turn, the health of our entire community. We need to reshape our approach to healthcare by ensuring ACEs screenings are a priority in our doctors' offices.

Together, we can ensure we all have a path toward healing and wellness.

Trauma and adversity during childhood cause lifelong impacts to your

NEW FLASHCAST

When was the last time you put TLC on repeat on your way to work just because it felt good - here's the first piece of a 3 part flashcast series from Nick Dalton where they/them/theirs talks music and rhythm and the connection between both and trauma. Join Nick in the conversation NOW! This is a good one!

Flashcast available in both English and Spanish here: https://www.norcalaces.org/flashcasts

How are we doing?

"This was not your run-of-the-mill Zoom slog. Nick Dalton and his team provided a compelling, engaging, informative, and riveting presentation. And it was fun! I benefitted personally and professionally; my vagus nerve was happy. Thank you for the good work you do!"

Caryl Lark, Director of Patient Care
Los Angeles Centers for Alcohol and Drug Abuse

"The Advanced Informed Care (TIC 102) had several insightful takeaways for me. When trauma is a collective experience being able to establish a culture of safety and belonging and being able to feel safe with others allowing a trusting social relationship. Also, the idea of race based trauma was new to me. The post traumatic slave syndrome was very interesting and Dr. Joy DeGruy's video made a lot of sense."
